East of Nakba (71)

Part III. Chimera

Chapter 71 An endless journey through time and space (3)

The Chimera suddenly disappeared from the sight. Was it because it was too far, or was it entangled in the dark matter that filled the universe? But it didn't matter for the Creator in the universe. The Creator was somewhere in the infinite universe, or else everywhere.

The Creator was watching the Chimera. He was watching the Chimera that were forced to mutate in the Earth and now on the way back to him. The Creator was watching from somewhere (or anywhere) in space the Chimera which had been mercilessly mutated by human beings. He was deeply angry and disappointed with human beings for breaking the eternal law that only the Creator could control mutations.

The Creator got angry that human beings had cut and reconnected genes that were only allowed to him. Human beings had invaded in the sacred genetic information. As a result of genetic manipulation, human beings have had suicidal consequences for their own reproductive function. The Creator was disappointed by the foolishness of human beings.
