East of Nakba (72)

Part III. Chimera

Chapter 72 Neo Galaxy (1)

The Chimera escaped from the Earth of solar system and returned to the Creator. It was quite different from the original Galaxy that the Creator once sent out into space. The Creator did not utterly anticipate that the species were to be modified by anyone except him. Of course, he accepted that the species to mutate by themselves as time went by after settling on one of the stars. Some species had acquired abilities far superior to the original through multiple mutations.

The Creator has enjoyed individual mutations. One of the most reliable species for him was the human beings on earth. Human beings had evolved at an astonishing speed, far exceeding that of other creatures. And now it became the strongest one that lived on Earth. It took about five million years.

It was only a twinkle compared with the history of universe, which was said to be more than 10 billion years. And it was an enough short period compared with the history of the Earth of 5 billion years. Human history was extremely short. The lifespan of an individual human beings was only less than 100 years. In such short period human beings repeated a endless reproductive activity for the preservation and mutation of species. In that sense, 5 million years of human evolution could be expressed as a long time.

The Creator, however, had no sense of time at all. For him, the time and the space were exactly the one phenomenon. The Creator was almighty and controlled time and space together. Human beings had never and couldn't get such experience.
