East of Nakba (77)

Part III. Chimera

Chapter 77 NEO Galaxy Landing on the Earth (3)

The Elite had resumed his duty several months ago after completing his mission to bomb Iran's nuclear facilities. But he was the only one survival. His two colleagues, Mafia and Abdallah, never came back. The Israeli Air Force lost three fighter planes and one fuel supply plane during the operation to bomb Iranian nuclear facility. In addition to Mafia and Abdallah, all the crew members of the fuel supply plane lost their lives. Abdallah set off a nuclear explosion in the stratosphere above Iranian air space while carrying a nuclear warhead.

Israeli government and military leaders urgently discussed and analyzed on how to deal with the situation. The bombing of Iran's nuclear facilities by Israeli jets was too obvious to concede. The Israeli government made a public statement that the bombing had nothing to do with the other events.

Israel had never made it clear whether they had nuclear bombs or not. It meant that neither their fighter plane carried a nuclear warhead, nor caused a nuclear explosion over Iran. The Israeli government did not deny or confirm it externally, and pushed through with no comment. Inside the military, a strict gag order was drawn not to talk about the Iranian nuclear incident.

Elites strongly believed that if he completed his missions and returned to his homeland, he would become heroes. However, two of his fellow pilots did not make it out alive. He was not given even the reason of the death of his colleagues.

However, when he was rescued by the U.S. nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Harry S. Truman and noticed that he was the only one survivor, he began to worry about the behavior of the people around him. At first, the sailors looked him with awe, but later no one directly praised him. All treated him with touching a boil.
