East of Nakba (80)

Part III. Chimera

Chapter 80 Signs of the stampede (2)

At the same time, the medical special force of the Israeli military came to the same conclusion as Anat. The only difference was that while Anat was unable to figure out the cause, the military recognized that the cause was due to the pandemic of Chimera infection under the guise of quarantine measures by them. They kept it top secret.

As time went by, strange rumors began to circulate among the soldiers.

<Palestinian women are no longer able to have children.>

In fact, the fertility rate of Palestinian women had fallen sharply, and it had become more serious year after year.

Soldiers heard the whispering of the devil.

<If a woman doesn't get pregnant, we never fear!>

Israel had the universal conscription system, All Israeli citizens including Ashkenazim were conscripted regardless of gender. But the Palestinians were excluded from conscription system. Once Palestinians were involved in the military training and armed with lethal weapons, there would be a high risk that they would turn into terrorist.

The stoic life in the army was intolerable for young male soldiers. The romance with female soldier was forbidden in the barracks. Among them, there might be some who fell in love and get married after discharge. But female soldier was generally calculating. She put the priority on her marriage in male blood lineage, appearance, and prospects for career advancement after discharge. The majority of male soldiers were frustrated on a daily basis.
