

Part I

Israel air-strikes the Iranian nuclear facility

Chapter 1 Predawn sortie

Three F16I fighters flew away from the air base in Israel before dawn on 201x/x/x aiming at the east. It is natural that the fighter heads for the sky over the Mediterranean sea in the west at a usual exercise. However, the fighter headed for the east. The fighter would cross the border of neighboring country Jordan in tens of minutes, and reach the sky in Saudi Arabia and Iraq as a result. It is a clear that they violate the territorial sky of both countries.

Three planes zoomed at once after they had taken off. They shifted to the level flight when they reached the high degree 10,000 meters. They did not hesitate the invasion and took the course in due east. Their operation plan is like this: To keep high altitude until they reach their target, and to rush into by a super-low sky near the target. After they bombed the target, they zoom again, and return to base by the high degree 10,000 meters. It is called 'High-low-low-high operation' by the strategy term.

The target set in Global Positioning System (GPS) and laser-guided bomb 'Bunker buster' installed beneath the wing is Natanz located in the 200 miles south of Teheran in Iran. The distance to the target is about 2,000 kilometers from Israel. In Natanz, the enriched uranium is being manufactured by several thousand of centrifugal separators. All of the facilities are in the underground trench of ten meters or more in depth. It is one of the most important ones in a nuclear development facilities in Iran.

Nuclear-related facilities in Iran are in Isfahan and Arak too besides Natanz. There are production facilities of uranium hexafluoride necessary to centrifuge the uranium in Isfahan. And, there are a heavy water plant and a plutonium production furnace in Arak. If these three facilities are combined, Iran can hold a nuclear weapon. It is the ninth in the world after USA, UK, France, Russia and China India, Pakistan and North Korea.

Taking into account a well-known fact that Israel has the nuclear weapon, Iran becomes the tenth holder of nuclear weapon. Israel does not deny nor confirm that it has the nuclear weapon. It is intangible pressure to Arab and Muslim countries to take a fuggy attitude.

It is clear that Israel will lose domination if overlooking the nuclear development of Iran. It is unbearable for military concerned in Israel. Right-wing ultranationalists party 'Israel, my country' shares the same idea. Both of them firmly believe that the Jew is the most excellent race in the history of mankind.

Israel is impatient about situation. In the United States, Obama was chosen to be President. Israel had to learn that the wind to the Palestine problem had changed. The book entitled "Israel lobby and diplomatic policy of the United States" became a best-seller. In the past, it might not publish such an anti-Israel book. If Israel perceived such movement, Israeli lobby in Washington immediately ignited to all media in the United States. They prevented to publish such kind of book, and, in addition, banished the author from the society.

The hard-liner in Israeli troop cannot allow Iran. And, it is the same thing for a right-wing ultranationalist like political party 'The Jewish Home'. They believe that the Jew is the most excellent race in the humankind.

The reason of Israel's impatient does not only depend on domestic circumstance in US. Recently an international political issue like Middle East peace process was not pulling the concern in the world. The world's attention has moved to financial problems of the recovery of economy and the stability of the financial system. The world began to notice that Middle East peace process is a problem of the Palestinian suppression by Israeli government. Middle East peace process is only one of the regional issues in the world. There are many conflicts all over the world like domestic minority problem.

But Middle East peace process has one different aspect compared with other minority problem, The problem has been handled as the power game in the international geopolitics. The United States, super-power, always supports Israeli government. From time to time, another power opposed to the United States utilize this problem. In the past, it was an Arab Nationalism movement. The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics backed them up. Nowadays, it is an Islamic fundamentalism movement.

Such political game or economic problem is nothing to do with Israeli pilots who faces the bombing of Natanz. Their minds have gotten excited now. It was not the first time that Israeli air force made a sortie to other countries. Israeli air force bombed the Iraq's nuclear suspicious facilities before. They attacked the Hizbollah camp in a Lebanese southern part. Both of the attack was short distance flight. A long distance bombing is since the fourth Middle East War in 1973.
